Her daughter, Singing Stream, who knew no word of English, but who could do better headwork than any squaw in the tribe, went to live with Warren Rodney when he finished his cabin on Elder creek. That was before the gold fever reached the Black Hills, and Rodney built the cabin that he might fish and hunt and forget the east and why he left it. There were reasons why he wanted to forget his identity as a white man in his play at being an Indian. In the first flare of youth and the joy of having come into her woman's kingdom the half breed squaw was pretty. She was proud, too, of her white man, the house he had built her and the girl papoose with blue eyes. Furthermore, she had been taught to serve man meekly, for he was the lord of creation.

Rodney talked Sioux to her. He had all but forgotten he was a white man. The girl papoose ran about the cabin brown and bare but for the bead jacket Singing Stream had made for her in the pride of her maternity. Rodney called the little girl "Judith." Her Indian mother never guessed the significance of the strange name that she could not say, but made at least ten soft singing syllables of, in the Indian way. The little Judith greeted her father in Russian lipings; Warren Rodney was far from unhappy in playing at primitive man. This recession into conditions primeval endured for "seven snows," as the Indian tongue hath it. Then the squaw began to break, after the manner of the women of her father's people. She had begun her race with time a decade after Warren Rodney, and she had outdistanced him by a decade.

And then the Tumlin came from Tennessee to the Black Hills. They came in an ox cart, and the days of their journey were more than two years. They had stopped in Ohio and again in Illinois; but had traveled on and on across half a continent in the wake of a vanishing sky line. The vague westward impulse was luring them to California, but they waited in Dakota that their starved stock might fatten, and while they rested themselves from the long journey Warren Rodney made the acquaintance of Sally Tumlin, who rallied him on being a "white man."

Warren Rodney had almost forgotten the sorceries of the women of his people; he had lived so long with a brown woman, who spread no silken snares. Sally's blouses stirred a multitude of dead things—the wiles of pale women, all strength in weakness, fragile flowers for tender handling—the squaw had grown as withered as a raisin.

Now, Sally Tumlin had no convictions about life but that the world owed her "a home of her own." Her mother had forged the bolt of this particular maxim at an early date, and Sally saw from precocious observation that the business of women was home getting, to which end they must be neat and sweet and sparing of speech. After the home was forthcoming then indeed might a woman take ease in slippers and wrapper, and it is surely a wife's privilege to speak her mind. Sally knew that she hated traveling westward after the crawling oxen. Her father and selfish brother loved the makeshifts of the wagon life. The cabin on Elder creek had a tight roof; Warren Rodney had money in the bank. He had had uncommon luck at trapping. His talk to Sally was largely of his prospects.

wedding, with a ring and a fee to the parson. The wedding party started for the post, old mother Tumlin fluttering about the bride as complacently as if the ceremony had been the culmination of the most decorous courtship. The odious brother drove the bridal party, making crude jests by the way to the frank delight of the prospective groom and the giggling protestations of the bride. The chaplain at the post was disposed to ask few questions. Parsons made queer marriages in those tumultuous days, and it was regarded as a patent of worthy motives that the pair should call in the man of the gospel at all. To the question whether or not he had been married before Rodney answered:

"Well, parson, this is the first time I have ever stood up for a life sentence." And the ceremony proceeded.

Some of the ladies at the post, hearing that there was to be a wedding, dropped in and added the smiles and flutterings to the rather grim party, among them Mrs. Atkins, who had just come to the post as a bride. They even added a trifle or two from their own store of pretty things as presents to Sally. And Miss Tumlin left the post Mrs. Warren Rodney, with "a home of her own" to go to.

Singing Stream did not hasten in her quest for bright fabrics with which to stay the hand of fate. To the half breed woman the journey to town was not without a certain revivifying pleasure. The Indian in her stirred to the call of the open country. As she drove through the foothill country she told the solemn eyed little Judith the story of the Sioux and what a great fighting people they had been before Rodney's people drove them from their land.

Judith was not quite four when she took this memorable drive with her mother, but the impression of these things abided through all her years.

And when they had come within a mile of Warren Rodney's cabin on Elder creek Singing Stream halted and prepared for the great event of reinstatement. First she made a splendid toilet of purple calico torn into strips and tied about the waist to simulate the skirts of the devil woman. Over these she wore a shirt of buckskin broided with beads of many colors and a necklace of elk teeth wound twice about the throat. On her feet she wore new moccasins of tanned elk hide, and these, too, were headed in many colors. Her hair, now braided with strips of scarlet flannel, hung below the waist. And she walked to Rodney's cabin not as an outgrown mistress, but as the daughter of a chief. The little Judith held up her head and clung tight to the doll. She knew that something of moment was about to happen.

The gala trio, Singing Stream, Judith and Judith's doll, presented themselves at Rodney's house, before which the bride was washing clothes, the day being fine. Sally, as usual, wore one of the rose colored calicoes with the collar turned well in and the sleeves rolled above the elbows. She washed vigorously, with a steady splashing of suds. Sally enjoyed this home of her own and all the household duties appertaining to it. She was singing, and a strand of pale brown hair, crinkly as seaweed, had blown across the rose of her cheek, when she felt rather than saw a shadow fall across her path, and, glancing up, she saw facing her the woman whom she had supplanted and the solemn eyed little girl holding tight to her doll.

Now, neither woman knew a word of the other's speech, but Sally was proficient in the language of femininity, and she was not at a loss to grasp the significance of the purple calico, the beaded buckskin shirt and the necklace of elk teeth. The half breed walked as a chief's daughter to the woman at the tub, and Sally grew sick and chill despite her white skin and the gold ring that made Warren Rodney her man in the face of the law. The dark woman held Judith proudly by the hand as a sovereign might carry a scepter. Judith was her staff of office, her emblem of authority in the house of Warren Rodney.

Singing Stream held out her hands to Sally in a gesture of appeal—and blundered. Of the chief's daughter, walking proudly, Sally was afraid; but a supplicating half breed in strips of purple calico, not even hemmed, was a matter for merriment. Sally put her hands on her hips, arms akimbo, and laughed a dry cackle. The light in the brown woman's eyes as she looked at the white like prairie fires rolling forward through darkness. There was no need of a common speech between them. The whole destiny of woman was in the laugh and the look that answered it.

And the man they could have murdered for came from the house, an unheroic figure with suspenders dangling and a cornucopia pipe in his mouth, sulen, angry and withal abjectly frightened, as mere man inevitably is when he sniffs a woman's battle in the air. The bride, at sight of her husband, took to hysterics. She wept, she laughed and down tumbled her hair. She felt the situation demanded a scene. Rodney, with a marital brevity hardly to be expected so soon, commanded Sally to go into the house and to "shut up."

Then he faced Singing Stream and said to her in her own language: "You must go away from here. The pale faced woman is my wife by the white man's law—ring and Bible. No Indian marriage about this."

This Is the Charge Made by Federal Grand Jury
at Louisville.

W. B. SMITH INDICTED

Former President of Western National Bank Charged With the Defalcation of $198,013.92

Smith Is Now in Porto Rico But It Is Said He Will Come Back and Face Charges.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 20.—W. B. Smith, former president of the Western National bank of this city, has been indicted by the federal grand jury on ten counts, charging him with embezzlement, making false entries, and the misappropriation of the funds of the bank. The total defalcation charged in the indictments is $198,013.92, divided as follows: False entries, $135,966.65; misappropriation, $12,047.27; embezzlement, $50,000.

Mr. Smith is said to be in Porto Rico, and it is alleged a cablegram has been received from him saying he will return to Louisville on Oct. 29. The first count in the indictment charges that on May 1, 1905, Smith caused a false entry for $10,000 in favor of the Citizens bank of Carsville, Ky., to be entered in the general blotter of the Western National bank. On the same day Smith is charged with making two false entries in favor of George C. Wallace of Paducah. One of these entries is for $39,966, and the other is for $10,000. The fourth charge recites that on May 29 Smith made a false entry in favor of himself.

The fifth count charges that on June 12 Smith debited the account of the White Oak Cannell Coal company $35,000, this sum purporting to have been paid by the direction of the Queen City Savings Bank and Trust company of Cincinnati.

The sixth count charges Smith with having made a false entry for $35,000 in favor of the Continental National bank of Chicago. The date of this entry is June 13.

The seventh, eighth and ninth counts charge misappropriation of the funds of the Western National bank by small notes made and endorsed by F. P. Toof and L. C. Garrett, it being alleged that Toof was insolvent at the time.

The tenth and last count of the indictment charges that on July 8, while president of the Western National bank, Smith embezzled $50,000 of the bank's money which was in his custody.

Smith went to New York from Louisville last week and was at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Last Saturday he wired President Jefferson his resignation as a director of the Western National. Mr. Smith bought a controlling interest in the Western National two years ago and became its president, but owing to dissatisfaction among the directors over his administration, he was forced to resign on July 10 last. He was succeeded by T. L. Jefferson, the present president of the bank.

Mr. Jefferson and the other members of the directorate exerted all their energies to hold the bank up, but on Aug. 21 the comptroller of the currency ordered it closed. The bank has since reopened under favorable conditions.

Smith is thirty-two years old. He came here from Paducah, where he was interested in several enterprises. At the age of twenty-one Smith was cashier of the Lewisburg Banking company at Lewisburg, Ky., and two years later held a similar position in Slaughterville, Ky. In 1902 Mr. Smith helped to organize the Globe Bank and Trust company in Paducah and became its president. He remained in this position for two years, going to Louisville a year later.

While in Paducah Mr. Smith took a prominent part in church affairs and taught a class in the Broadway Methodist Sunday school. He owned an interest in the Ledger. He also had stock in the Jackson Whig, a newspaper published at Jackson, Tenn. He was formerly president of the People's Home Purchasing company of Paducah, which is now in the hands of a receiver, a fraud order having been issued against it by the government several months ago.

Cumulative Evidence.
New York, Oct. 20.—The payment of $120,000 through American Asphalt companies to support General Matos' revolution in Venezuela was testified to by General Avery D. Andrews, vice president of the National Asphalt company. Mr. Andrews gave this testimony before United States Commissioner Gilchrist in the taking of evidence to be used to settle the suit of the Venezuelan government against the New York and Bermudez Asphalt company for $11,000,000 damages for this company's alleged participation in General Matos' revolution.

Valuable Diamonds Taken.
New York, Oct. 20.—Mrs. George W. Hoadeley, wife of the manager of the International Power company and president of the American Bridge company, was robbed of $10,000 in diamonds at her home in the Buckingham hotel. John Yorke, a waiter, and Albert Schultz, formerly a bell-boy at the hotel, are held on suspicion.

OVATION CONTINUES

The President Is Warmly Received in the Land of Cotton.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 20.—The ovation which President Roosevelt received during his journey through a portion of Virginia Wednesday was continued yesterday as he traveled through the state of North Carolina. Beginning with his arrival at Raleigh at 9 o'clock in the morning, he was greeted by cheering crowds at Durham, Greensboro, High Point, Lexington, Salisbury and Charlotte, the demonstration in the latter city being a fitting farewell of the citizens of the old Tarheel state.

The feature of the day was the president's visit to the fair which is in progress at Raleigh. There he delivered an address which was given close attention, and he was frequently interrupted by hearty applause. He was accompanied to the fairgrounds by Mrs. Roosevelt, and she, too, was the recipient of much attention. Lieutenant Governor Winston officiated at Raleigh, owing to the absence of Governor Glenn, caused by the death of his brother and by United States Senator Simmons and Overman.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

A bit of sentiment was responsible for a brief stop at Lexington, where the president was greeted by several hundred people, to whom he spoke briefly. Lexington is the county seat of Davidson county, which was the only county in North Carolina to give President Roosevelt a majority at the last election. This morning the president paid a visit to Roswell, the home of his mother. From there he came to Atlanta, where a warm welcome awaited him. Mrs. Roosevelt will leave him today and return to Washington.

EMPEROR'S NARROW ESCAPE
Germany's Ruler Gets Mixed Up in an Auto Collision.
Berlin, Oct. 20.—Emperor William had a narrow escape from serious injury last evening. His majesty was crossing the street in front of the castle in his auto car, when an automobile cab approached at high speed. The chauffeur of the emperor's car saw the cab when it was almost upon him and turned his machine sharply. The cabman at this moment also saw the danger and threw the brakes on with full force. Nevertheless the two machines collided with a considerable shock.

Emperor William's car took him into the court of the castle. The other car was disabled.

Government Supports Him.
Washington, Oct. 20.—That France intends to stand by her representative at Caracas, M. Taigny, was reiterated by M. Jusserrand, the French ambassador, who in reply to a question declared that M. Taigny had the hearty support of his government, which approves all of his acts at Caracas.

Sustained New Laws.
Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 20.—The supreme court has handed down decisions sustaining the constitutionality of the anti-cigarette law, the inheritance tax law and the law to prevent desecration of the American flag.

Fatal Mine Accident.
Boonville, Ind., Oct. 20.—Joseph Hicks, a coal miner employed in the Reynolds mine near here, was instantly killed by the cage falling upon him, breaking his neck.

TERCE TELEGRAMS
Two inches of snow fell over northern Nebraska and in South Dakota Thursday.

The interstate commerce commission is inquiring into the private car line industry.

At the national encampment of the Union Veterans' Union at Springfield, Ill., it was decided to meet at St. Paul next year.

There is a strong prospect that the entire educational system of Russia will again be paralyzed indefinitely for revolutionary purposes.

Edward Cunliffe, the Adams Express company employee who disappeared from Pittsburgh with $100,000, has been found at Bridgeport, Conn. Most of the money was recovered.

Formal but none the less hearty expressions of thanks from the Russian and Japanese emperors to President Roosevelt for his services in the cause of peace in the far East have been received.

The Japanese naval review will take place on Oct. 23 in Tokyo bay. The ships will be arranged in seven columns, extending a distance of fully ten miles, with the captured ships leading the line.

HE'S GOING TO STAY

Richard A. McCurdy Declares
He Has No Intention of Resigning.

CAN'T DRIVE HIM OUT

Mutual's President Announces That He Will Serve His Term Out Despite Any Contingency.

Legislative Investigating Committee
Has Closed Another Sensational and Strenuous Week.

New York, Oct. 20.—Richard A. McCurdy, president of the Mutual Life Insurance company, has made the statement that he had no intention of resigning, that he was elected to serve until June 7, and that nothing can or will drive him out.

It was also announced from the district attorney's office that no action will be taken regarding the George J. Plunkitt matter that was turned over to the district attorney Wednesday by the legislative committee that is investigating the insurance companies.

Closing one of the most sensational and strenuous weeks of the insurance investigation, the committee just before adjournment yesterday concluded the examination of Richard A. McCurdy, with the exception of a few details he is to supply next week. Mr. McCurdy has been on the stand the greater part of the three days of this week's session, and some of his testimony has been the most startling of any that has been adduced before the committee. His testimony yesterday, however, was very much of a technical nature, though it was of much value to the committee in its work, in connection with trust companies. The information furnished by Mr. McCurdy disclosed that the trust companies with which the Mutual Life was connected became very prosperous soon after they were taken up by the Mutual Life. Two cases in point were the Morrisstown Trust company, Morrisstown, N. J., where the McCurdy family live, and the United States Mortgage and Trust company. The former is now controlled by the Mutual Life, and Mr. McCurdy testified that besides being a director of this trust company, he is a large stockholder and would take more stock if he could get it.

The Mutual Life keeps a balance of not less than $200,000 with this company, on which it draws from 2 to 3 per cent. The latter rate has been paid only since Sept. 1. Mr. McCurdy did not know the holdings of the other members of his family in this company. In the syndicate operations, McCurdy said he participated not with the idea of drawing bonds, but to obtain his share of the commission allowed by bankers.

Mr. McCurdy was asked what life insurance he carried, and he was unable to say at once, but James M. Beck, his counsel, presented a statement showing when the policies were taken out, for what amounts and the plan. These aggregated $200,000, all in the Mutual. Mr. McCurdy testified that he was also insured in the Equitable, the Washington Life and the Connecticut Mutual. Before he left the stand Mr. McCurdy said he paid $4,500 for his apartment in the Grosvenor building, which is owned by the Mutual.

When Mr. McCurdy was excused, his son, Robert H. McCurdy, was called to explain some charges for traveling expenses in 1904. He said one of his duties as general manager was to visit the agencies about the country. Three such trips were made, the expense of which aggregated about $3,600. McCurdy said that while on one trip he was accompanied by his father, mother, wife and the latter's maid, but that the expense accounts were for himself individually, and did not include those of any other member of his family or party. He had a private car on one of these trips. He could not tell why the expenses on these trips were so large, but said he would furnish the details later. McCurdy was followed by W. W. Richards, comptroller of the Mutual Life, who was explaining the manner in which the Mutual acquired some properties by foreclosure, when the committee adjourned until next Tuesday.

Blind Bank Directors.
Pittsburg, Oct. 20.—Investigation into the condition of the Enterprise National bank, which was closed by the comptroller of the currency Wednesday, shows beyond doubt that the institution was conducted in a manner entirely unknown to the directors. From a representative of the bank it is learned that since the investigation started papers and notes have been brought to the attention of the directors which they never saw before.

Will Visit America.
Turin, Italy, Oct. 20.—Dowager Queen Margherita has returned here after a journey of 5,000 miles in her automobile through Switzerland, Germany, Holland and France. Her majesty has expressed her intention of visiting the United States next year with a forty horsepower machine.

Report Continues Favorable.
New Orleans, Oct. 20.—There were no deaths from yellow fever here yesterday.

Express Company Employee Who Took

$100,000 Is Found.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 20.—Edward George Cunliffe, the Adams Express employee who disappeared from Pittsburgh with $101,000 in cash, was arrested here. He made a confession and expressed his willingness to return once to Pittsburgh. He declared that the money which he took was intact, and that it could be restored, but he declined to tell, until his return to Pittsburgh, where it is hidden. On his person when arrested the detectives found $290.

When detectives told him that $80,000 had been recovered at the home of his brother-in-law in Bristol and pressed him to tell where the missing $20,000 was hidden, Cunliffe finally said: "You'll never get it, I have destroyed it." He said that he was afraid the bills would give him away, as they were of large denomination and practically marked, as they were of the Allegheny National bank in Pittsburgh and that everybody was looking for them. Cunliffe said that rather than carry them around he burned them. If his statement is true, and the detectives think it is, the total amount of money stolen is accounted for.

Money in Old Suitcase.
Bristol, Conn., Oct. 20.—Nearly $80,000 of the money stolen by George Edward Cunliffe Oct. 9 from the Adams Express company in Pittsburgh, was recovered last night at the home of Joseph W. Boardman, Cunliffe's brother-in-law. For just a week the fortune had lain in an old suitcase unknown to Boardman, who was holding the valise, expecting its owner would call for it any day.

PANAMA BONDS
Secretary Shaw Preparing for the Forthcoming Issue.
New York, Oct. 20.—Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the treasury, was in Wall street yesterday. His mission, according to report, was to confer with Wall street bankers in regard to the flotation of the Panama canal bond issue and to sound the bond dealers concerning the legislation necessary to make the bonds marketable at the price agreed upon when the issue was determined.

Among these bond dealers it was said that the legislation which Secretary Shaw proposes to ask from congress on the Panama canal issue will have to include a reduction in the tax on circulation which may be issued against the Panama bonds from 1 per cent to one-half of 1 per cent. If this is not done, it is pointed out, the new bonds cannot be sold at the price determined upon when the issue was authorized. If the tax is reduced the new bonds will be on an equal basis with the present consolidated 2s so far as banknote circulation is concerned.

EVERY good citizen in a community has something to suggest for the benefit of that community, and his value to his neighbor is measured by the wisdom of his suggestions and the energy with which he seeks to enforce them.

YESTERDAY the REPUBLICAN published the first of a series of short illustrated articles on Christmas presents, some of which may be prepared at home, thus giving a touch of individuality to your gifts. These articles will appear every few days during the next few weeks and will prove both interesting and profitable.

THE big insurance companies have always done a large amount of profitable advertising but for some months they have been getting an abundance of free notices. Most of these free notices have not been complimentary to the managers of the big insurance companies yet they may result in good to the insurance companies themselves. It is no wonder that insurance business is dull at this time.

THE Columbus Times says that the Irwins will rush the work of surveying their interurban extension to this city as much as possible and that profiles would be submitted as quickly as the engineer could get them ready. The Times says the route will then be decided upon. It is the purpose of Mr. Irwin to let contracts for the grading and the bridges during the winter so that construction work will begin early in the spring.

RECEPTION.

Rev. H. H. Allen Welcomed To Pastorate of First Methodist Church.

Rev. H. H. Allen and family were given a reception at the First Methodist Church last evening a large number being present from the congregations of all denominations of the city. Rev. H. H. Allen's appointment to the First Methodist Church is highly satisfactory to the members of that body and their appreciation and good will were given expression at the social gathering last night. Rev. Allen came here from New Albany, where he had been pastor of Wesley Chapel for several years and being an able and thoroughly capable minister, his appointment to this church is most fortunate for its members.

A most pleasing program was rendered, consisting of addresses of welcome, interspersed with some very fine musical numbers. J. H. Matlock was master of ceremonies for the occasion and Rev. Allen and his family were cordially welcomed into the church and community in the excellent addresses by Rev. Austin B. Conrad, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rev. G. W. Shields pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Rev. C. E. Severinghaus, of the German M. E. Church and Rev. Harley Jackson of the Central Christian Church. Rev. A. Egli, of the German St. Paul Church was unable to be present on account of sickness. Rev. Allen responded to the words of welcome with fitting remarks, in his happy way expressing his appreciation of the cordiality with which he and his family were received into the community.

The musical numbers of the program consisted of a violin, cornet, piano trio by Frank Abele, Dr. R. E. Harris and Miss Grace Conner, vocal solos by H. G. Stratton, Mrs. Frank Voss and Mrs. Frank Abele, and vocal duet by Mrs. Anna Smith and Rev. Severinghaus.

At the close of the program a pleasant social hour was enjoyed while refreshments of ice cream, cake and coffee were served, during which time music was rendered by Mr. Abele and Mr. Harris with the piano accompaniment.

Very Fine.

The REPUBLICAN is under obligation to Mr. J. P. Ahl, the well known farmer residing east of Seymour, for some very fine Yellow Jersey sweet potatoes. Eight potatoes weigh nine and three fourths pounds, an average of nearly one and a fourth. They are certainly very fine.

For Defendant.

The case of Jessie Cox et al against John Still, the Crothersville saloon keeper, on his bond for damages owed to the jury Thursday and after deliberating a little while brought in a verdict for the defendant.

More Berries.

Jesse Himler, son of John T. Himler, brought to this office today another bunch of second crop red raspberries. They are large and nice and were grown on one of Mr. Himler's lots in the city.

Large Potato.

Orinal Baldwin brought a sweet potato to this office today that weighs 34 pounds. It only takes a few like this one to make a bushel.

The settlement of the case of Dindinger et al against the Seymour Saddle Co. before coming to trial was not exactly a compromise as stated yesterday. The settlement came about by the complaining stockholders accepting a proposition for the purchase of their stock. Then the suit was dismissed as we understand.

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell. Kidney troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and a cure is obtained quickly by a proper treatment of the kidneys. If you are feeling badly you can make no mistake by taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful new discovery and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address: Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Story That Looks Like a "Grapevine" Comes From the Eleventh.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—A report was started here today that Luther Hess of Marion might be a candidate for reporter of the supreme court or auditor of state on the Republican ticket next year. The fact that there is no vacancy in the reporter's office and that there will not be any before 1908, indicates that someone has started a "grapevine." It was said that Colonel Russell B. Harrison, son of the late President Harrison, and Major Harold Megrew of this city, while on a visit to Marion the first of the week, offered their support to Hess and tried to induce him to run. It is not known how much truth there is in the report, but it is not likely that Hess will try to get into a race now. The Eleventh district, for that matter, already has a candidate for auditor of state, as "SI" Powell of Logansport is an aspirant for the nomination for auditor.

John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, who has headquarters here, left today for a visit with his family at Spring Valley, Ill. He has not been seen here since last June, when he started for the anthracite regions for the purpose of reorganizing his shattered forces there. Mitchell is the same impassive, reticent leader as ever. No knowledge of his plans can be gained from his expression. He is putting in about sixteen hours a day getting ready for the interstate wage conference here in January and February and for the wage convention of the anthracite districts to be held the middle of September. In order not to lose time he has taken a part of his office force to Spring Valley, so he can work while he visits. He will go to Scranton, Pa., the 28th to attend the annual "Mitchell Day" celebration, at which it is expected there will be 40,000 or 50,000 miners. He will return then to Indianapolis and spend most of his time here until after the conference in January and February.

Attorney General Charles W. Miller said today that the entire shortage of David E. Sherriek, deceased auditor of state, amounting to $145,000 when his resignation was caused by Governor Hanly, will probably be wiped out shortly without the American Surety company, his bondsman, having to pay a cent. Mr. Miller has given his entire time to the settlement of Sherriek's affairs and, aided by Receiver Reed, ex-Governor Durbin and others, has them in good shape. He said that money for half of the Sherriek securities is now on deposit here, and the chances are that the other half will be taken up soon by Sherriek's friends. Sherriek is now an inmate of a local sanitarium for treatment of his nervous system, having become almost a wreck physically since his trouble.

SAVING PROMISED

Uncle Sam's Printing Bills to Be Greatly Reduced.

Washington, Oct. 20.—Representative Charles B. Landis of Indiana, chairman of the committee on printing of the last house of representatives, and who as a member of a sub-committee has been making an investigation of government printing, in an interview here, declared that in every department of the government as well as in both houses of congress, there has been extravagance and reckless waste in public printing. He says the reports received from the heads of different departments has convinced him that a great deal of unnecessary printing is done and that legislation will be necessary at the coming session of congress to prevent the waste. He predicts that a great saving can be accomplished by judicious amendments of law and by eliminating many worthless documents that are printed at government expense under present conditions.

Evidence of Inhumanity.

Fort Scott, Kan., Oct. 20.—The preliminary hearing of George B. Riggins and his wife, charged with murdering six-year-old Herbert Riggins by starving and beating him, has commenced here. Five witnesses, including the family physician and neighbors, gave testimony describing treatment to which the boy was subjected by his father and stepmother. All of the witnesses testified that the boy was strong and healthy until he was placed in charge of his stepmother. The physician who examined the body after death testified that the boy had been brutally beaten and the body was badly bruised.

Charged With Embezzlement. Cleveland, Oct. 20.—John J. Kelley, clerk of the city market house, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Director of Public Works Leslie. Kelley is charged with having failed to account for $4,429 in rentals collected from keepers of stalls at public markets. He was released on $15,000 bail. Kelley is under bond for $5,000.

Clemency Is Recommended.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 20.—Mrs. Catherine Danz, the Philadelphia woman under sentence of death for poisoning her husband, has been recommended for a commutation to life imprisonment by the board of pardons. It is believed the government will approve his recommendation.

Thomas Dooley Dead.

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 20.—Thomas Dooley, who was shot by Policeman Piazza at Clinton, Ind., during a saloon brawl Saturday, is dead at St. Anthony's hospital. He leaves two children.

The Young Man and The World

BY SENATOR ALBERT J. BEVERIDGE.

PLAIN COMMON SENSE.

Few men have been held so highly by the young men of the country as is Senator Beveridge.

Rarely has the career of any one been so encouraging to the young man who expects to "do something."

Why? I fought at 12; logger at 14; graduated from college, De Pauw, at 23; plainman, law clerk, lawyer; United States Senator at 36—that is what Senator Beveridge, poor and without a pull, has done by sheer pluck and hard-work. And his steady conservative work in the senate has won him the equal regard of older men also.

No other man could be better equipped than Senator Beveridge to talk with young men about what they are going to do with their lives.

It is concentrated common sense. It does not preach, scold nor advise tiresomely. It reads like friends talking together.

It counsels cordially. It speaks encouragingly, as comrade to comrade. Full of incident, briliant with illustration, it reads like a story. It is as forcible, vigorous and healthy as the man himself. No young man of ambition can afford to be without it. It is practically helpful—it gets down to the A B C of living. Not a father nor a mother should fail to put it into the hands of their boys—it will inspire them and fascinate while it in-pires. You will read it through if you begin it.

There are twelve chapters—every one of them loaded with that American wisdom called common sense. And the book is bright—not a dull page, not a dull paragraph, not a dull line.

It is written in the Indiana Senator's best style, and the man who cannot get new vigor in reading its crisp chapters is not a live American.

It is not only a brilliant book and a practical book—it is a big book, a big-hearted, big-brained book. It is the frankest kind of a talk between a United States Senator who has been through the mill himself and every young man who must go through the mill himself. It is a talk with the young man of the young man's country by its most prominent young man.

AGENTS WANTED—Splendid opportunity for agents on Senator Beveridge's great book! It should go into every family where there is a son. Send for outfit and terms. Price $1.50 Net. Postage Additional.

Order Favors Passengers.

After several years' experimenting officers of the Pennsylvania railroad have come to the conclusion that directly behind a locomotive is a bad place for sleepers or any other cars which are used by passengers. For this reason an order has been issued that "in all instances a baggage car whether the car is needed for baggage purposes or not, must be the first car of the train." This rule applies to excursions and regular trains.

In the case of a combination baggage and smoker car the baggage end must be first. "The only possible deviation from this order," the order continues, "is on those divisions where no provision is made for turning trains at the end of a suburban run. This is the only time when an excuse will be accepted." This is the first official acknowledgement from a railroad company that the middle of a train is the safest place to ride.

CORN SHOW

Indiana Corn Growers' Plan a Monster Corn Show in January.

At a recent joint meeting of the committees of the Indiana Corn Growers' Association and the program committee of the Corn School, it was unanimously decided to hold a corn show in connection with the fourth annual Corn School and Stockmen's Convention at Purdue University, next January.

The object of the association in getting up this corn show is to arouse a greater interest in corn improvement throughout the state. The educational features of such a show are obvious. Samples of the best corn from all over the state will be brought together where the hundreds of farmers who will be in attendance at the Corn School can study and compare them and learn where good types for use on their own farms can be secured. The exhibitors themselves will learn the weak points of their corn and see wherein improvements can be made. It will be a good object lesson in the selection of good types of corn and will help many farmers toward securing better seed.

All entries will be free and every farmer in the state is hereby invited to show a sample of his corn and enter the competition for honors and premiums.

The state will be divided into several sections and handsome premiums will be offered in each. The exhibitors from each section will first compete against each other for premiums offered within their section and the winners in the various sections will then compete in sweepstakes classes.

It is confidently expected that this will be the greatest corn show ever held in Indiana and that the interest aroused will do a great and far reaching work in the way of encouraging the production of better types and more profitable crops of corn.

Standards of perfection and suggestions for the guidance of exhibitors in selecting their exhibits will be furnished upon application to Prof. A. T. Wiancko, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., to whom all questions and correspondence concerning the corn show should be directed.

RHEUMATISM THE TERROR OF WINTER

Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter because of the cold and dampness and other changed conditions of the climate. The occasional twinges of the disease that are felt during the warmer weather are changed to piercing pains, the muscles become inflamed and swollen, the nerves get sore and excited, the bones ache, and Rheumatism, the terror of winter, takes possession of the system. Then the sufferer turns to the liniment bottle, the woolen clothes, the favorite plaster or some home remedy, in an effort to get relief. But Rheumatism is not a trouble that can be rubbed away or drawn out with a plaster; these things relieve the pain and reduce the inflammation, but do not reach the real cause of the trouble, and at the next exposure another attack comes on. Rheumatism is caused by a sour, acid condition of the blood. The refuse matter and bodily impurities which should be carried off through the channels of nature have been left in the system because of indigestion, weak kidneys, torpid liver and a general sluggish condition of the system. These impurities sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to the different muscles, joints, nerves and bones, causing the painful symptoms of Rheumatism. S. S. S. goes to the root of the trouble and cures Rheumatism by cleansing the blood. It neutralizes the acids and filters them out of the circulation and sends a stream of pure, rich blood to all parts of the body. Then the pains cease, the inflammation subsides, the nerves are quieted, every symptom of the disease passes away, and the cure is permanent. S. S. S. is purely vegetable and does not injure the system as do those medicines containing Potash and other minerals. Book on Rheumatism and medical advice without charge.

Climatic Cures

The influence of climatic condition in the cure of consumption is very much overdrawn. The poor patient and the rich patient, too, can do much better at home by proper attention to food digestion, and a regular use of German Syrup. Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by German Syrup, so is a good night's rest and the absence of that weakening cough and debilitating night sweat. Restless nights and the exhaustion due to coughing, the greatest danger and dread of consumptive, can be prevented or stopped by taking German Syrup liberally and regularly. Should you be able to go to a warmer climate you will find that of the thousands of consumptives there, the few who are benefited and regain strength are those who use German Syrup. Trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Faith Not Necessary.

You may be just as skeptical and pessimistic as you please. Kodol will digest what you eat whether you eat or not. You can put your food in a bowl, pour a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure on it and it will digest it the same as it will in your stomach. It can't help but cure indigestion and dyspepsia. It is curing hundreds and thousands—some had faith and some didn't. Kodol will cure you if medicine can cure you, whether you have faith in it or not. Sold by A. J. Pellens and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

Do You Want Strength?

If you want to increase your strength you must add to and not take from the physical. In other words, the food that you eat must be digested, assimilated and appropriated by the nerves, blood and tissues before being expelled from the intestines. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure adds to the physical. It gives strength to and builds up strength in the human system. It is pleasant to the taste and palatable, and the only combination of digestants that will digest the food and enable the system to appropriate all of its health and strength-giving qualities. Sold by A. J. Pellens, and W. F. Peter Drug Co.

You Must Sleep.

If you cannot, it is due to an irritated or congested state of the brain, which will soon develop into nervous prostration. Nature demands sleep, and it is as important as food; it is a part of her building and sustaining process. This period of unconsciousness relaxes the mental and physical strain, and allows nature to restore exhausted vitality.

Dr. Miles' Nervine brings refreshing sleep, because it soothes the irritation and removes the congestion.

It is also a nerve builder; it nourishes and strengthens every nerve in your body, and creates energy in all the organs.

Nothing will give strength and vitality as surely and quickly as Dr. Miles' Nervine.

"During the past winter I had two attacks of LaGrippe which left me very weak, and in bad condition. I was so nervous I could not sleep. My wife, after trying different remedies, went for a doctor. The doctor was out, and a neighbor recommended Dr. Miles' Nervine, and she brought home a bottle. I had not slept for some time, and had terrible pains in my head. After taking a few doses of Nervine the pain was not so severe, and I started to sleep. I am now taking the Nervine, and am very much improved."

CLOSE DEFINITION

Railway Commission Holds That Discrimination Is Not Discrimination.

IMPORTANT DECISION

A Ruling on Rates Is Made That Will Have Far-Reaching Effect on Gas Belt Manufacturers.

Commission Decides That Coal May Be Shipped to Them at Lower Rate Than to Others.

Indianapolis, Oct. 20.—The decision of the Indiana railway commission in the gas belt coal case, holding that a low rate to manufacturers is no discrimination, has not caused any surprise, although the law provides against discrimination in rates, and in this case, which came from Elwood, it was admitted that the railroads charged the manufacturers 60 cents a ton, the other users of steam coal 75 cents, and ordinary consumers 85 cents. But the commission took the broader ground that the manufacturers and the private consumers were not in the same class, and that in giving the manufacturers a lower rate the railroads were not discriminating against the ordinary citizens. If it had been shown that one manufacturer was receiving his coal at a lower rate than another, then there would have been discrimination that the commission would have recognized. The commission also held that the railroads could afford to haul cheaper for the manufacturers, as the latter reimbursed them by sending out freight. The only profit the roads get from the ordinary consumer is on the coal shipped to them, as they have no outgoing business to give the roads. A number of cases from other states were cited in support of the decision. To have attempted to make a uniform rate would have raised the price and manufacturers would have been obliged to move where fuel was cheaper. Under the circumstances it is believed that the decision will meet with general approval. It is the most important matter the commission has considered, but today it had another case of great concern to shippers and the roads in which Schnell & Co., of this city, is trying to get a lower rate on freight shipped to and from points within the state. The decision is expected to be a precedent in such matters.

FOR A PURE ELECTION

Political Committees at Columbus Bar Unwholesome Factors.

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 20.—The agreement which eliminates the use of money, whisky and all other unwholesome things in the coming city election has been signed by R. E. Everroad, chairman of the Democratic city committee, and John M. Williams, chairman of the Republican city committee. The agreement will be ratified by each city convention, and must go into force by Oct. 23. There seems to be no doubt but that the agreement will stand, and then the different committees and candidates will sign it. Every member of each committee is a committee of one to see that the agreement is enforced on election day.
